

As long as the rates are regulated and reasonable, we believe it is appropriate to charge for these services.